Part VII Compensation of Officers, Directors, Trustees, Key Employees, Highest Compensated Employees, and Independent Contractors

Check if Schedule O contains a response or note to any line in this Part VII

Section A. Officers, Directors, Trustees, Key Employees, and Highest Compensated Employees

- 1a Complete this table for all persons required to be listed. Report compensation for the calendar year ending with or within the organization's tax year.
- List all of the organization's current officers, directors, trustees (whether individuals or organizations), regardless of amount of compensation. Enter -0- in columns (D), (E), and (F) if no compensation was paid.
 - List all of the organization's current key employees, if any. See instructions for definition of "key employee."
- List the organization's five current highest compensated employees (other than an officer, director, trustee, or key employee) who received reportable compensation (box 5 of Form W-2, Form 1099-MISC, and/or box 1 of Form 1099-NEC) of more than $100,000 from the organization and any related organizations.
- List all of the organization's former officers, key employees, and highest compensated employees who received more than $100,000 of reportable compensation from the organization and any related organizations.
- List all of the organization's former directors or trustees that received, in the capacity as a former director or trustee of the organization, more than $10,000 of reportable compensation from the organization and any related organizations.

See instructions for the order in which to list the persons above.

Check this box if neither the organization nor any related organization compensated any current officer, director, or trustee.

Explanation

Thought Leadership: Institute for Exceptional Care (IEC) chaired the Planning Committee for a public workshop of the National Academy of Science, Engineering, and Medicine, on the policy, clinical, and business actions needed to build an integrated system of care for people with intellectual and/or developmental disabilities (I/DD). The workshop featured over 30 stakeholders and experts in the field, addressing the critical topics of better coordination of support services across clinical and home- and community-based sectors, improving the cultural and technical preparedness of the general clinical workforce to care for people with I/DD, and improving financing and payment to sustain effective care models. IEC also: Led the design of all disability-related discussions at a national health equity conference with over 9,000 attendees from across the fields of clinical care and health policy. Produced an analysis of federal policy options to improve mental health outcomes for people with I/DD. Co-chaired other workshops and publications from the National Academy of Medicine on policy and programmatic options for improving the health of communities, particularly for vulnerable populations including people with I/DD. Research and Analysis: IEC sponsored three critical analyses to support the design of better care systems for people with I/DD: (1) Case studies of financing and payment innovations across the United States; (2) reviews of the strengths and weaknesses of current approaches to coordination between clinical and non-clinical service sectors, identification of 13 key coordination functions, and the design of an alternative framework for coordination that specifies which stakeholders should be responsible for which functions; and (3) review of current methods for risk stratification and producing a conceptual framework for predicting the types and levels of clinical and non-clinical services that a person with I/DD will need, in order to support better budgeting, financing, and payment. Education: IEC sponsored a webinar for a community of students, alumni, and staff at an independent residential school for children with I/DD, on the elements of "neurodiverse friendly" healthcare. The webinar addressed important physical accommodations in clinical practices, the potential and challenges of telehealth, and suggestions for how people with I/DD and caregivers can advocate for better care.
